HEADLINES

- We're on to the 19th edition of one of USL League One's hallmark rivalries, and one where half the matches have ended in draws. Despite the typically competitive, close-knit nature of the matchup, their last square-off was a 4-0 demolition job by Union Omaha. Sergio Ors Navarro netted a brace, while Ryen Jiba notched a goal in stoppage time as well.

- In a very literal sense, though, this is a different Madison team. Only Derek Gebhard (and the previously injured Eddie Munjoma) are holdovers from the 2025 'Mingos team that missed out on the playoffs by two points. Every single other player on the squad, no matter their role, is a newcomer. Given they have two wins in two to start the season, under March's Coach of the Month Matt Glaeser, there's plenty of reason for the Wisconsin outfit to be excited.

- Then again, Union Omaha is riding a three match win streak in the league and five in all competitions. They've scored at least two goals in each of those matches as well.

- Augmenting the attack for good is Diego Gutiérrez; after impressing on a 25-day contract with three goal contributions, the hometown hero and former Portland Timbers player signed a permanent contract with the Owls this week. He'll look to mark the occasion in front of friends and family once more.
